ConDUCKtor Hits 10,000th Boston Duck Tour!

Major Tom Foolery sets new Boston first in the City of Freedom, Fun and Firsts!

Boston, MA – 3/24/12 – Major Tom Foolery, a.k.a Ira Tabor. Will be conducting his 10,000th tour with Boston Duck Tours this Saturday at 1pm departing from the Prudential Center Duck Stop at 53 Huntington Ave. Major Tom has been working with Boston Duck Tours since 1996 where he started as a dispatcher at the Prudential Center. In 1998 he became a ConDUCKtor. Major Tom can currently be seen driving Boston Duck Tours famous pink DUCK “Penelope Pru”.

Since then, Major Tom has averaged 760 tours a season and at the most, 840 in one season.

Boston Duck Tours operates a fleet of amphibious “DUCKs”, WWII style amphibious landing craft. The company is presently converting it’s entire fleet to run on bio-diesel. 19 of the 28 currently run on bio-diesel. Boston Duck Tours has carried over 8 million guests through the city streets of Boston and over 550,000 a season. Tours depart daily starting at 9am and run until an hour before sunset from the Museum of Science and Prudential Center from March 19 – November 25, 2012. Tours also operate seasonally from the New England Aquarium.
